

SQUARE
PHOTO

Square Photo focuses in the production of backlit frames for transparency prints, in the professional and domestic markets. Clearly aimed at those looking for the quality of backlit prints, interactive and dimmable, optimising the experience of the demanding user and valuing the careful selection of each material or finishing, which supports the construction quality of each frame, elegant and effective on its visual presentation. Square Photo seeks excellence in every and each detail, in the service of an expanding and demanding market of photography, as a form of cultural and artistic expression.

It's philosophy of personal customisation adds value to each photographic experience, regardless of its different expression, providing the most vibrant and realistic perception of backlit photography. It amazes the viewer whenever he approaches, subtly interacting with him, adjusting to the environment and peculiarity of each photograph. Square Photo is the state of the art of all similar products, for its relational intimacy, in the aesthetic experience of photography, as well as in the qualification of housing and exhibition environments. Square Photo is the product of a systemic design thinking centred on the experience of a demanding user who loves photography.
